MR J. OGILVY appeared on behalf of the RVL Stewards

MR P. O'SULLIVAN (instructed by O'Sullivan Saddington Lawyers) appeared on behalf of Mr S. Wilde

CHAIRMAN: Mr Symon Wilde, you have pleaded guilty to a charge pursuant to Australian Rule 178. You brought the horse, Hello My Dear, to Edenhope racecourse on 7 June 2015 to compete in the Naracoorte Hotel Handicap. It had in its system a prohibited substance, ibuprofen, which was detected in the sample taken from it following the running of that race which it won.

Firstly, the horse is disqualified and we order that the placings be amended accordingly. We appreciate that this is a penalty in itself and there are doubtless unhappy owners and of course there is the financial penalty paid by you.

Other matters which we have taken into account are as follows: you have pleaded guilty, although we cannot say that this was at the first available opportunity. You have gone to the trouble of organising legal representation, so you obviously regard the breach of the rule as a serious matter, which it is.

It certainly cannot be said that you have an unblemished record. There are two previous convictions relating to the prohibited substance, bute. However, we agree that there are distinctions between those prior convictions and the circumstances of the present case. The second, a substantial fine relating to bute, was of its magnitude because you had apparently neglected to heed the warning previously given by this Board. Whilst we agree that there is a distinction, we would also say the previous problems should have placed you on high alert in relation to such potential problems with prohibited substances. We accept that there has been a marked improvement in supervision in relation to the relevant paperwork recording medications and treatment. We also appreciate that you have ceased to use the relevant products. This case may also highlight the risk associated with obtaining such products from manufacturers as opposed to veterinarians.

As agreed, this is a strict liability situation. In our opinion, the appropriate penalty is a substantial fine. In that regard, and bearing in mind all the circumstances, we have fixed on a figure of $8000. Unless there is something else to be said in relation to the time of payment of that fine, it is ordered that such fine be paid by 31 October next.
